A New Whig Song.

Dedicated to the 'Yazoo City Club,'

BY A MEMBER.

Air—"A wet sheet and a flowing sea."

Once more, Whigs of the South, once more,

Our arms must be arrayed;

Our glorious flag again must o'er

The ramparts be displayed.

Again your battle shout must rove,

The Union now and ever,

No Texas Star shall float above

The flag to freemen dear.

Once more, Whigs of the South, &c.

Though lost the fruits of former fields,

By traitorous Tyler's hand,

The punishment his conscience yields

Your silence should command.

Unto the traitor give no care,

For Arnold-like he's fled

Unto the ones who spread the lair

He wished that they would spread.

Once more, Whigs of the South, &c.

He's theirs, fit comrade for the band

Who would the Union mar,

Who has no shout for freedom's land—

Their all for the "Long Star."

What care they for the life-blood stream

Our fathers shed like rain;

To them their forms as nought doth seem,

Viewed with the Texian slain.

Once more, Whigs of the South, &c.

Whigs of the South, rise in your might—

Rise like the thunders rise,

When lightning swells the awful fight

The storm holds in the skies.

Rise! crush to earth the foes who dare

Assail your Union's rest,

And place in Freedom's guardian Chair,

Our "HARRY OF THE WEST."

Once more, Whigs of the South, &c.

POLITICAL.

Locofoco Honesty.

WASHINGTON, OCTOBER 1, 1844.

I observe in the Globe of last night the following card:

"BASE WHIG FORGERY.—NOTICE TO THE

DEMOCRACY.—We understand that the whig franking and publishing committee are now having printed at the office of the National Intelligence, forty thousand copies of a document headed "THE SOUTH IN DANGER," purporting to be issued by the Democratic Association of this city. This is a base forgery. We have authorized no such use of the title of our association to any document issued under the auspices of the Whig Congressional franking committee. It therefore, the Democracy of the free States should find any document of the character such as the title of this might indicate in circulation amongst them, they will denounce it as a whig forgery, and treat the trick as it deserves. Thus will the people of the country understand the morals of the party we have to deal with. This trick of these political Munchausens is on a par with the Roorback romance just published by one of their leading journals.

"We believe it to be our duty to put the Democracy on their guard against this forger; and we trust that the democratic papers throughout the country will republish this card.

JAMES TOWLES, Chairman.

C. P. SENGSTACK, Sec'y Ex. Com. Dem.

Association."

Now these are the facts in relation to this matter. A document of four pages headed "The South in Danger," "Read before you

Vote," "Address of the Democratic Association of Washington, D. C.," and signed JAMES TOWLES, chairman, and C. P.

SENGSTACK, Secretary, was published at the office of the "Spectator" in this city. I have reason to believe that this paper was prepared by the Hon. ROBERT J. WALKER; certainly he carried large numbers of it in person to the folding room of the United States Senate, and superintended the enveloping of them with a watchful eye to prevent the escape of a single copy; and, after the folding was completed, had the whole, by his direction, sent to his boarding house. Having received several copies of this document, and understanding that Mr.

WALKER intended to circulate it only in the South, and to prevent, if possible, its appearance in the North, I thought this surreptitious and partial circulation of it would be a fraud upon the American People. I therefore, sent to the office of the "Spectator" (where it was printed) to purchase a thousand copies, which I intended to send into the free States. The person applying was first told that he should have them, but on the second application, upon the faith of this promise, he was informed he should not have them; and the copy he took with him, to show what he wanted, was withheld from him against his consent, and he was further informed that the document was not intended to be circulated here. I then carried one of the copies which had been published at the "Spectator" office to the office of the Intelligence, and had an exact reprint of it struck off, which I am now circulating, and intend to circulate, through this wide

Republic. It is this reprint of a genuine Democratic document, put forth under the direction of Mr. Senator WALKER himself—who has, according to his own letter to a Committee of the Democracy of Tennessee, duties assigned him at Washington by the Democratic party which forbid his absence, (see Globe of August 26th, 1844.)

—and which reprint is faithful in every particular, that this card pronounces to be a "Base Whig Forgery."

I challenge Mr. Senator Walker, or any other person, to prove or to say, that the reprint which I have caused to be made is not an exact and faithful copy of their own document. Forgery, forsooth! Any newspaper in the country would have had the right to republish this paper without note or comment, and would that have been a forgery?

Every day, newspapers republish from others such articles as they deem proper, and is this forgery? All that custom or morals require is, that the reprint shall be correct.

The documents of the Whig Committee give the truth; they are not intended to be read only by a portion of the people, or by one section of the Union to the exclusion of another section, and thereby produce a false impression. They are addressed to the whole People of the United States, without regard to sections or parties. I will, and so will the whole Whig party, not only concede
